

Kodály Connect Albany

GREAT SOUTHERN GRAMMAR

A half-day PD for Music Teachers: Ideas, Games & Inspiration

Whether you are a classroom teacher or an instrumental teacher, come along to experience Kodály-inspired ideas that will engage your learners and support their musical skills. Fun and hands-on activities and ideas to take straight to your students.

When: Saturday 5th May

Where: Great Southern Grammar, 244 Nanarup Road, Albany

Time: 8:45am - 12:15pm with optional lunch afterwards at View Restaurant, Albany Entertainment Centre (at own cost)

Kodály Connect Albany presented by Jason Boron
8:30 am	Registration
8:45 - 9:00	Connecting Through Music Warm-up together with a song and some great games for the classroom.
9:00 - 10:00	Early Childhood Education Explore Kodály philosophy at an elemental level with some hands-on experiences for K-2 classrooms. Whether you teach this age group or not, exploring Kodály-inspired practice in the early years is essential to understanding the philosophy.
10:00 - 10:30	Morning Tea - light refreshments, tea and coffee will be provided
10:30 - 11:30	Upper Primary/Middle School Ideas for older beginners. Explore how to challenge the brain, body and musicianship of these older learners and watch the Kodály philosophy adapts for students at every level.
11:30 - 12:15	Choral Repertoire Sing through some fantastic choral repertoire to use with your choirs and classes.

Cost: KMEIA Members - $50, Non-Members - $65, Tertiary Student Members - Free, Tertiary Student Non-Members - $40 (includes KMEIA Membership)

REGISTER ONLINE: www.kodaly.org.au