KODÁLY CONNECT WITH VERONICA AKSE

Veronica Akse is a Music Teacher at Bethel Christian School in Albany. Prior to this, she taught music for the Department of Education and was a finalist for the WA Premier's Primary Teacher of the Year. Veronica holds Australian Kodály Certificates in Early Childhood and Primary Education. She is an enthusiastic music educator who loves inspiring the imaginations of all children and school communities to grow their love and involvement in Music.

KODÁLY CONNECT WITH HAYLEY MCDONALD-BURNS

Hayley is a past president of Kodály WA and a strong advocate for music education for all. She is currently studying her Master of Music with a Kodály Emphasis from the Kodály Center at the University of Redlands, California (online). In 2016, Hayley completed the Australian Kodály Certificate in Primary Music Education, and she continues to participate in professional learning seminars, conferences, and courses in various music education philosophies worldwide. She currently works as a Music Teacher and conducts two choirs at Presbyterian Ladies' College, Perth. Hayley is passionate about the possibilities of teaching music through the Kodály philosophy. By improving our own teaching practice, we can provide all children with a quality music programme and bridge the gap in music education.
